PROGRAM

Friday, 02/11

9:00-9:15     Breakfast

9:15-9:20     Opening Remarks by Joan Ramon Resina
               Director of the Catalan Observatory at Stanford University

9:20-11:00    INSTITUTIONALIZING IBERIAN STUDIES

Mario Santana, The University of Chicago

   The Future of Iberian Studies: Some Paradigmatic and Curricular Challenges

Dominic Keown, University of Cambridge

   Dine with the Opposition? No, gracias! Hispanic versus Iberian Studies in the UK and Ireland

L. Elena Delgado, University of Illinois, Urbana/Champaign

   If we build it, will they come? Iberian Studies as field of dreams

11:00-11:15   Coffee Break

11:15-1:00    IBERIAN LITERARY FIELDS

Robert Davidson, University of Toronto

   Iberian Publishing

Antoni Martí Monterde, Universitat de Barcelona

   Interliterarietat i camp literari. La literatura catalana i les literatures a Catalunya

José María García, Duke University

   Iberian, Atlantic, and Trans-Atlantic Modalities: Situating Galicia
1:00-2:00   Lunch
2:00-4:15   IBERIAN DIALOGS

David Nirenberg, University of Chicago
Convivencia: The Modern Exemplarity of Medieval Spain

Alfredo J. Sosa Velasco, University of North Carolina Chapel Hill
Representations of Jews and Jewishness in Contemporary Catalan Literature

Maite Zubiaurre, UCLA
Visual Erotica in Early Twentieth Century Iberia

Patrizio Rigobon, Università Ca'Foscari (Venice)
Francisco María Tubino Between Federalism and Iberism?

Saturday, 02/12
9:30-9:45   Breakfast

9:45-11:30   SPAIN OR IBERIA? A MATTER OF CONTEXT

William Viestenz, Stanford University
Spain's Time of the Sacred and the Future of Metaphysics in a Post-Secular Modernity

Ulrich Winter, Philipps-Universität Marburg
Asymmetric Wars, Incongruent Times: Iberian Paradigms for a Cultural History of the 20th Century

Hans Ulrich Gumbrecht, Stanford University
What Contexts Can Help Us to Appreciate 'Tiempo de Silencio'

11:30-11:45   Coffee Break
11:45-1:15  FROM SEA TO IBERIAN SEA

Vincent Barletta, Stanford University

Language, Death, and the Senses: Ramon Llull and the Portuguese Empire

Humberto Brito, Universidade Nova de Lisboa

The Iberian Problem

Joan Ramon Resina, Stanford University

In the Eye of the Beholder. Josep Pla in Portugal

1:15-1:30  Closing Remarks by Vincent Barletta

Iberian and Latin American Department, Stanford University

1:30  Lunch